The Key to Success

Once upon a time, in a small village, there lived two good friends, Ram and Karan. They studied in the same class at the same school.

One day, Karan told Ram, "I am no longer interested in my studies. I have decided to leave school next year. I will open a shop and earn a lot of money."

Ram did not take Karan's words seriously. He thought Karan was just joking. So, he ignored him and walked away.

But Karan was serious about his decision. The following year, he left school and started his own shop.

Several years passed. Karan's business did not grow as he had expected. He began to regret leaving his studies because he realized that he lacked the knowledge and skills needed to manage and expand his business.

Meanwhile, Ram continued his education. He worked hard, gained knowledge and developed useful skills. After completing his studies, he started his own business. With his knowledge, hard work and determination, he became a successful businessman.

One day, Ram and Karan met again. Karan sadly said, "Ram, I was wrong. I gave up my education for the hope of earning money quickly. I lost a great opportunity to gain knowledge, and now I regret my decision."

Ram replied kindly, "Karan, money can be earned at any time, but the knowledge and skills we gain through education stay with us throughout our lives. Knowledge and hard work make our journey towards success easier."

Karan understood his mistake and promised himself never to underestimate the value of education again.

Moral

Never give up education for the sake of early success. Knowledge, education and hard work are the foundations of lasting success.

Protect Our Environment, Protect Our Future

Introduction- The environment includes all living and non-living things that naturally occur on Earth. It provides us with clean air, safe water, fertile soil and food. Nature maintains a fine balance so that all creatures can survive and grow together.

Body- Smoke from factories and cars pollutes the air, while waste pollutes our rivers and oceans. Cutting down large forests destroys animal habitats and increases global warming.

Burning gas and oil raises the Earth's temperature, causing extreme weather conditions. Some simple solutions are planting more trees, reducing waste and saving energy.

Conclusion- Protecting nature is not just a choice; it is a duty for everyone. A clean Earth is a safe and healthy home for future generations. Small green habits today can help build a better world tomorrow.

Maths Magic: Square Any Number Below 100

Here is a simple and fast formula to find the square of a number. First, find the nearest number ending in 0. Then, find the difference between the given number and that nearest number.

Formula

[$N^2 = (N+d)(N-d)+d^2$]

Here, N is the given number, and d is the difference between N and the nearest multiple of 10.

Example 1: 59^2

Nearest number = 60

Difference = 60 − 59 = 1

[(59+1)\times(59-1)+1^2]

= 60 × 58 + 1

= 3480 + 1

= 3481

Example 1 : 59^2

1. Nearest number = 60
2. Difference = 60 − 59 = 1

$(59 + 1) \times (59 - 1) + 1^2$

4. = 60 × 58 + 1
5. = 3480 + 1
6. = 3481

Therefore, $59^2 = 3481$.

Quick Steps :

1. Find the nearest multiple of 10.
2. Calculate the difference (d).
3. Apply the formula: $(N + d)(N - d) + d^2$.
4. Get the answer.

YOUNG STREAM
THE OFFICIAL FORTNIGHTLY MAGAZINE
Mona Modern English Medium School, Sarangarh
Affiliated to CBSE, New Delhi | Affiliation No. 3330161

Therefore, $59^2 = 3481$.

Example 2: 62^2

Nearest number = 60

Difference = 62 − 60 = 2

[(62+2)\times(62-2)+2²]

= 64 × 60 + 4

= 3840 + 4

= 3844

Therefore, $62^2 = 3844$.

Example 2 : 62^2

1. Nearest number = 60
2. Difference = 62 − 60 = 2

$$(62 + 2) \times (62 - 2) + 2^2$$

4. = 64 × 60 + 4
5. = 3840 + 4
6. = 3844

Therefore, $62^2 = 3844$.

Why It Works?

- Makes calculation simple.
- No long multiplication needed.
- Very useful for numbers near 10, 20, 30... 90.
- Saves time and reduces effort.

Quick Trick

Find the nearest multiple of 10 → Find the difference → Add and subtract the difference from the number → Multiply the two results → Add the square of the difference.

This method can make square calculations faster, easier and more interesting, especially for numbers below 100.

What Life Teaches Us

Life is the greatest teacher. We learn many things not only from books but also from our daily experiences. School teaches us different subjects, but life teaches us how to live.

The first lesson life teaches us is patience. Nothing good happens overnight. Whether it is learning a new skill or achieving a goal, everything takes time. We must keep trying without giving up.

The second lesson is the value of people. In life, marks and money are important, but good friends, family and kind people are even more important. Helping others and respecting our elders make our lives meaningful.

The third lesson is to stay positive. Problems will always come. Sometimes we fail in exams, and sometimes our friends misunderstand us. But every problem has a solution. If we stay positive and calm, we can find a way to overcome our difficulties.

In conclusion, life is not just about success. It is about learning, growing and becoming a better person every day. If we learn these small but valuable lessons, our future will automatically become brighter.

The Silent Language of the Heart

Art has always been one of the most beautiful ways of communication in this world. Sometimes, feelings are too deep or difficult to express through words. Art gives these emotions a voice through colours, lines, shapes and expressions. It allows an artist to share their happiness, pain, strength, devotion and imagination without saying a single word. Every single stroke portrays their emotions.

The beauty of art lies in the fact that every artwork tells a different story. While the artist expresses their emotions through their creation, the viewer connects with it in their own unique way. Thus, art creates a silent yet powerful conversation between hearts.

My drawing of "Maa Kali" is also an expression of emotion through art. Maa Kali represents immense power, strength and the destruction of negativity. Through her intense eyes, bold expressions and dark yet striking colours, I tried to portray the powerful and divine presence associated with her.

For me, this artwork is not just a drawing—it is a reflection of emotion, imagination and devotion. Every stroke and colour carries a feeling that words may not always be able to express.

While drawing her, I did not want to create only a beautiful image—I wanted to capture the power, intensity and divine energy that her form represents. As I worked on her expressive eyes, fierce expression and bold colours, I felt a sense of strength and a deep emotional connection.

Konark Sun Temple – A Marvel of Kalinga Architecture

The Konark Sun Temple is located in the town of Konark, in Puri district, Odisha, India.

The construction started around 1238 CE and was completed around 1250 CE during the reign of King Narasimha Deva I. European sailors nicknamed it the "Black Pagoda" because of its dark appearance and its use as a landmark for navigation. The temple was built for the worship of Surya Dev (the Sun God), to celebrate victory, showcase the artistic and engineering skills of Odisha, and symbolize the Sun God's journey across the heavens. The temple is one of the finest examples of Kalinga architecture.

Characteristics of the Temple

The main characteristics of this temple include:

1. Rich carvings and beautifully shaped stone structures.
2. Massive stone structures.
3. An east-facing temple.
4. Structures much larger than normal human dimensions.
5. A highly symmetrical layout.

The temple was designed as the chariot of the Sun God. The entire temple looks like a magnificent stone chariot. It has 24 enormous carved wheels and 7 horses, along with the Jagamohana (Assembly Hall), Natya Mandapa (Dance Hall), boundary walls and gateways.

- The 24 stone wheels have many symbolic meanings. They represent the 24 hours of a day and also symbolize the cycle of time and endless movement, change and motion.

- Each wheel has eight major spokes, along with decorative carvings, animal figures, human figures and floral designs.

YOUNG STREAM
THE OFFICIAL FORTNIGHTLY MAGAZINE
Mona Modern English Medium School, Sarangarh
Affiliated to CBSE, New Delhi | Affiliation No. 3330161

- The wheels can also be used to indicate time. The gap between a thick spoke and a thin spoke represents approximately 1.5 hours (90 minutes), while the gap between two thick spokes represents 3 hours.

- The seven horses represent the seven days of the week, the seven colours of sunlight, the seven Vedic metres, and the energy and speed of the Sun.

Main Structures

The main structures are:

a) Vimana (Main Sanctum)
b) Jagamohana (Assembly Hall)
c) Natya Mandapa (Dance Hall)
d) Bhoga Mandapa

The temple contains thousands of stone carvings depicting gods and goddesses, dancers, warriors, elephants, musicians, kings and queens, lions, birds, horses, and scenes from daily life, etc.

The temple also represents the three different times of the day:

1. Rising Sun
2. Midday Sun
3. Setting Sun

The temple is designed to face east, allowing the morning sunlight to illuminate the temple, symbolizing the glory and journey of the Sun God.

समय का बीज

बहुत समय पहले एक गाँव में एक बूढ़ा माली रहता था। उसके पास एक छोटा-सा बीज था। लोग पूछते, "यह किस पेड़ का बीज है?"

माली मुस्कुराकर कहता, "यह समय का बीज है।"

गाँव के लोग हँसते और कहते, "ऐसा कोई बीज नहीं होता।"

एक दिन एक लड़का, विवान, उस माली के पास आया और बोला,

"मुझे यह बीज दे दीजिए।"

माली ने कहा, "बीज ले जाओ, लेकिन इसे पानी से नहीं, अपने अच्छे कामों से सींचना।"

विवान रोज़ किसी की मदद करता, ईमानदारी से पढ़ाई करता, माता-पिता का सम्मान करता और कभी झूठ नहीं बोलता। कई महीने बीत गए, लेकिन ज़मीन से कुछ नहीं निकला। लोग उसका मज़ाक उड़ाने लगे।
विवान ने फिर भी अच्छे काम करना नहीं छोड़ा।

कुछ वर्षों बाद वही लड़का बड़ा होकर गाँव का सबसे सम्मानित व्यक्ति बन गया। लोग उसकी सलाह लेने आने लगे। तब बूढ़ा माली बोला,

"देखो, बीज पेड़ नहीं बना। उसने तुम्हारा चरित्र बना दिया। यही समय के बीज का फल है।"

विवान मुस्कुराया। उसे समझ आ गया कि सबसे बड़ा पेड़ ज़मीन में नहीं, इंसान के भीतर उगता है।

सीख (ज्ञान)- अच्छे कर्मों का फल तुरंत नहीं मिलता, लेकिन समय उन्हें ऐसा वृक्ष बना देता है, जिसकी छाया जीवन भर साथ रहती है। इसलिए कभी भी अच्छे काम करना बंद नहीं करना चाहिए ।
